FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*Unitus Community Credit Union Promotes Four to Vice President Roles

Leadership transitions position Unitus for continued growth, innovation, and exceptional member experiences

Tigard, Ore., July 1, 2025 – Four experienced leaders are taking on new roles as Vice President at Unitus Community Credit Union, reflecting the organization's focus on expanding access, deepening community connections, and delivering an exceptional member experience.

Aimee Berg has been promoted from Community Development Manager to Vice President of Community Development & Financial Wellness. In her new role, Ms. Berg will lead programs that strengthen financial capability, build lasting community partnerships, and support members at every stage of their financial journey.

Larry Cavasso, formerly AVP, Finance & Controller, has been named Vice President of Finance &

Accounting. Mr. Cavasso brings strong financial oversight and strategic insight to his new role, where he will manage key financial operations and support organizational growth.

Amy Olson, previously AVP of Mortgage Lending, has been appointed Vice President of Mortgage. Ms. Olson will lead the mortgage team in helping more members achieve their homeownership goals through responsive service and innovative loan products.

Ronda Wagner has been promoted from AVP of Consumer Lending to Vice President of Consumer Lending. Ms. Wagner will oversee consumer lending strategy and operations, with a focus on delivering efficient, member-focused lending solutions.

"These leaders bring a deep understanding of our members' needs and a passion for meaningful service," said David Fehrer, Executive Vice President/Chief Strategy and Innovation Officer. "Their promotions support our commitment to evolving with our members and building stronger financial futures together."

These promotions reflect the continued evolution of Unitus' leadership structure to better serve members, partners, and communities across the region.
